

Social and Personal

JUSTICE JOSEPH LAMAR, of the United States Supreme Court, and Mrs. Lamar are enjoying the hospitality of Virginia friends. Mrs. Lamar, before her marriage, was Miss Pendleton, the daughter of the late William H. Pendleton, of this State, and it has been an annual custom with her for years to spend some part of the summer at one of the old Pendleton homes, Cuckoo, in Louisa county. This historic place is now owned by Mrs. Lamar's cousin, Dr. Eugene Pendleton. Its former owner, the late Philip Barbour Pendleton, was a prominent figure in a book of Louisa county reminiscences, an interesting little volume, written by Mrs. Lamar some years ago. Its author is greatly admired for her social and literary gifts by her Virginia friends. She is an officer in the National Society of Colonial Dames, and it is believed that she will be one of the leading hostesses in Washington, D. C., during the approaching season.

What a Woman Can and Did Do

Mrs. Hennessee, of McMinnville, Tells How She Succeeded in Spite of Many Discouragements

McMinnville, Tenn.—Mrs. Lucy Hennessee, of this place, says: "I suffered about six years, more or less, with womanly troubles. My head hurt so terribly that I could get no sleep. My husband had no faith in it, but I commenced using Cardui according to directions, and now he is thoroughly convinced that Cardui is doing me more good than all the doctors.

Before I had used all of one bottle of that wonderful medicine I had commenced to improve. Now I feel like a different woman.

The misery is all gone, and I have a good appetite and feel greatly improved in every respect.

It will certainly benefit others as it has me, and I am glad to know that such a remedy is within the reach of every suffering woman."

If you suffer from any form of womanly weakness or irregularity, try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It helps nature to perform a cure in a natural, easy way.

The ingredients used in Cardui are mild herbs, which have a gentle tonic effect on the womanly constitution.

It builds up the strength, improves the appetite, tones up the nervous system, and helps to make pale, sallow cheeks fresh and rosy.

If you are a woman, try it.

FAIR PROSPECTS BEST IN YEARS

Exhibition at Fredericksburg Opens To-Day—Suit Against Insurance Companies.

Fredericksburg, Va., September 25.—The fair of the Rappahannock Valley Agricultural and Mechanical Society will open on the grounds here to-morrow. Everything is in readiness and the prospects are the brightest for years for a most successful exhibition.

More race horses are here than for many years past. There will be a splendid program of racing each day. Among other attractions, will be fancy drills and manoeuvres by a troop of United States cavalry from Fort Meyer, consisting of sixty fearless riders and splendidly trained horses, all sorrels.

A farmers' institute will be held on the second day, and a reunion of Confederate veterans on the third day. Among the special exhibits are a display from the State Food and Dairy Department, an insect exhibit, showing the insects which are so destructive to various crops, from the State Department of Agriculture, and an exhibit of the State Audubon Society.

A large number of amusements, games and booths are in place, and all of the departments are well filled. There will be much rivalry for the big prize for seed corn. The attendance will probably be a record-breaker.

The marshals for the fair are: Chas. I. Kennedy, chief marshal; N. B. Kinsey, Robert Payne, E. S. Moore, William Snellings and H. F. Lee, assistant marshals. A new plan has been adopted for the races. There will be only one judge, T. Bernard Boswell, of "Bullfield," Hanover county. There are twenty-five race horses from a distance on the grounds.

Four new bridges, in connection with the permanent good roads improvement in Spotsylvania county, have been completed and have been accepted by the county. They are heavy and substantial, built of steel and concrete, and will last for years.

The four bridges are: One over Hazel Run, near this city; another over Gayle's Run, near Spotsylvania Courthouse; one over Massaponax Run, on the Spotsylvania Courthouse Road, and another over Massaponax Run, on the Telegraph Road, near Massaponax.

A new post-office has been established in the spot where county on the Gordon Road, ten miles from Fredericksburg, known as Bramble Hill, with Mahlon Armstrong as postmaster.

S. B. Hardwick, a prominent citizen of Westmoreland county, was paralyzed a few days ago, but is now improving.

The Democratic Committee of Lancaster county has elected R. O. Norris, Jr., as county chairman to succeed F. G. Newbill, resigned.

C. S. Smith, who was nominated in the recent primary over the incumbent, J. G. Talarfero, as Commonwealth's Attorney for Gloucester county, will be opposed in the general election by ex-Judge Fielding L. Taylor, who is a well known Republican.

Between this city and the State Normal School, located on the western heights of the city.

Mrs. Annie Cox, widow of Eugene L. Cox, has instituted, through her attorneys, W. W. Butner and C. O'Connor, a suit for $1,000 against the Maryland Casualty Company of Baltimore, and $500 against the General Accident Assurance Company, of Perth, Scotland, and Philadelphia, both of which companies issued accident policies on the life of her husband prior to his death on July 17 last.

Mr. Cox died as a result of injuries sustained by a fall while at work. Mrs. Cox alleges that shortly after his death she was induced by representatives of the two companies to execute a check for $200 for the first named and $100 for the second in settlement of the claim. Later ascertaining that she had been, as she thinks, misled, she declined to cash the checks, and made demand on the two companies for full settlement according to the policies. The companies refused; hence the suit.

Caroline Kirby, three years old, daughter of J. D. Kirby, of Fauquier county, was playing with her little brother, Clifford, aged five years, a few evenings ago, when the latter found his brother's gun. While the two children were playing with it the gun accidentally discharged and blew the little girl's right arm to pieces.

Dr. Trow and Dr. Wise were summoned, and they amputated the arm above the elbow.

CIRCUS EMPLOYE DIES AFTER FIGHT

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Kingston, N. C., September 25.—An employee of a circus which has been exhibiting here, a white man named Sweeney, died here this morning as a result of a fight between himself and another circus man named Rockwell.

A dispute arose over some beer, when Rockwell knocked Sweeney down. He did not arise, and was found to be unconscious. A few hours later he died in the circus hospital. An autopsy by the county physician showed absolutely no cause of death by violence, and it is supposed the man had so weakened himself by drinking that a slight blow seemed to kill him.

The coroner's jury found that he died following a personal encounter with Rockwell from causes unknown. Sweeney was buried here, his full name and place of residence being unknown. Rockwell was held in $500 bond for court.

Believed Fight Between Carrington and Mann Will End Saturday.

When the board of directors of the State Penitentiary met next Saturday, it is expected to take up the election of officers for the ensuing term. A superintendent for the penitentiary, one for the State farm and surgeons for both institutions are among the officers to be chosen. There is no opposition to Major James B. Wood for head of the State prison, nor to Captain T. J. Davis as superintendent of the farm.

Friends of Dr. Herbert Mann are confident that he will be elected surgeon of the penitentiary over the incumbent, Dr. Charles V. Carrington. It is stated that the vote will be four to one, and it is further rumored that at least two members of the board have said they would resign rather than vote for Dr. Carrington. But the nature of their alleged objection to him has not been divulged.

In the meantime the many friends of the incumbent are rallying to his support, and letters are pouring in on members of the board to induce them to continue him in office. Attention is directed to his record, which is understood to be progressive and satisfactory. Among the letters are some from Senator Claude A. Swanson, who endorses Dr. Carrington in the warmest terms and urges his re-election.

Both the candidates were earnest and ardent supporters of Senators Martin and Swanson in the recent primary.

Dr. Mann has asserted that the matter of this position is never been discussed between himself and Governor Mann, who is his uncle, and who appointed four of the five members of the board. The Governor has declared that the board is able to manage the affairs of the institution, and that it will be expected to do so without dictation from him. In the meantime the advocates of Dr. Carrington are not convinced that political influence is not at work somewhere to cause the selection of Dr. Mann.

BIG RALLY TO-NIGHT AT FIRST BAPTIST

Two Noted Ministers Will Speak at World's Alliance Meeting.

Rev. Robert S. MacArthur, D. D., president of the Baptist World's Alliance, will be the principal speaker to-night at the big rally to take place in the First Baptist Church, beginning at 8:15 o'clock. Baptists of this entire community have displayed marked interest in the meeting, and it is expected that the gathering will be one of unusual interest.
